I am writing my story on the food service at Bromley Hall. Many students have complained about the food quality and the hours food is served. For my story, I will interview students who live in Bromley and the staff. My first interview will be with Kendra Bristow, the head of Bromley Hall. I will also talk to residents and ask them about their opinions. My last interviews will be with the dining hall staff.

Questions:

1. Why does Bromley have such short dining hours?
2. If someone pays for three meals a day, why can't they go to one meal twice?
3. Why do other dining halls have higher quality options than Bromley?
4. Have the hours always been the same?
5. Who is responsible for deciding dining hours?
6. Why are there not healthy options?
