

Story Idea

How dining halls and college affects vegan or transitioning vegans. Some say it is a good time to transition, but sometimes it is hard when a student does not have control over what is in the dining halls.

Possible Interviews:

Emily Rose-currently transitioning to a vegan diet but finds it hard to transition with having limited food in the dining hall, but it has been better than dining halls in the past. Sometimes it is more about self-control.

- What made you want to decide to become vegan?
- Why did you decide to transition now, in college rather than before?
- How have the dining halls helped your transition?
- How has dining halls made it hard?

More interviews/vegan restaurants:

The Dancing Dog Eatery Employees-Vegan restaurant near campus, popular amongst vegans at U of I, passionate about vegan food

Field of Greens-vegan options for Allen Hall/LAR during lunch

Red Herring- Vegetarian volunteer restaurant

- Why is having vegan options important on campus?
- Why was this restaurant/program started?/Who started it?
