

A resolution supporting medical marijuana in University Housing has been proposed. The proposal urges the University to change the regulations on non-smoking medical marijuana. Illinois currently has a medical marijuana program, however students living on campus have few options obtain their prescriptions. The impact of federal funding has kept the University hesitant to allow medical cannabis on campus.