

Daily Illini article rewrite: Matthew Haufe

A pro medical marijuana in student housing resolution was introduced to Student Government Wednesday.

The resolution suggests new regulations for allowing possession and use of medical marijuana on campus.

Individuals diagnosed with debilitating conditions can apply for a medical marijuana identification card under Illinois' medical marijuana program.

Students on campus have limited options when it comes to medical marijuana.

Public universities are wary of allowing medical marijuana because it is illegal on the federal level, which could impact funding.