

Andrea Cannon

Journalism 199

Professor Meyer

9/19/17

Improving a Story

Link to Original Article:

<http://olympics.nbcsports.com/2017/09/19/michael-phelps-comeback-retirement/?cid=eref:nbcnews:text>

Michael Phelps will not add more gold to his collection in 2020. He has decided to pursue other goals outside the water. Even after the Olympics, Phelps has continued to be successful. He collected six medals including, five gold and one silver. However, he did not waver from his decision to retire. Phelps will forever be invested in swimming. An up and comer, Caeleb Dressel, accomplished great things in Budapest earning seven gold medals. Even though Phelps will not be representing the USA in the upcoming Olympics, he is confident that the United States will continue to dominate under Katie Ledecky and Caeleb Dressel.