Article name: To wear Makeup or not to wear Makeup?

Recently buzzfeed showed examples of men who shared pictures of celebrities they thought were beautiful and believed were wearing no makeup.

The women were actually wearing makeup. There's a new trend going around that is called natural makeup which is the illusion of no effort when wearing makeup.

Even Alicia Keys swore off Makeup claiming that it was hypocritical of her songs she had written. She now does everything and goes everywhere bare faced and of course people are jumping in the bandwagon.

Because of this, many of them look seem raw but in reality it's getting used to them at ease in their own skin.

The trick is to find products that will improve your skin so you don't feel like you need to hide it.
