

Kofi Hopps

JOUR 199

Second Story

43-year-old, Peabody-Burns High School social studies teacher and coach, Christopher Young has been charged with eight felonies regarding sexual offenses with two high school girls. An investigation regarding the allegation has been progressing for months and today the Judge finally released the affidavit. The affidavit revealed details such as Christopher Young having sex with two 16 year old girls at his house one night and then driving them to school the following morning.

Courtney Boehm provided the initial complaints that described five counts of alleged “unlawful sexual relations, consensual sexual intercourse, lewd fondling or touching, or sodomy” with two 16 year old high school students around January 28-29.

Three more felony charges were filed as they provided that on December 22, 23, and 27, Young had “visual depictions” of the same 16 year old high school students “engaging in sexually explicit conduct.”

When the news broke out Christopher Young was not put under arrest, but was placed on administrative leave and an arrest warrant had been issued onto him. At the hearing Young was greeted by around 40 supporters. His supporters varied from former students to retirees. Young was very emotional at the hearing as he occasionally had to use a tissue to wipe tears away from his face.

Judge Michael Powers announced to Young’s lawyer, John Rapp, that Young wasn’t under arrest as of yet. The bond had been lowered to $50,000 if Young showed up to court.

The newly released affidavit has revealed more detailed information regarding the situation of Young and the two high school students. According to the document, Young would occasionally sneak into one of the girls house through her bedroom window at night and leave in the early morning. Young also was caught on the Peabody-Burns High School video system locking his classroom door before school started with him and one of the girls inside. One of the girls revealed in a interview that she and the other girl performed oral sex with Young on the night of January 28th and continued on into the next morning. The father of one of the daughters felt that Young “needs to lose his job, his marriage, and maybe do some jail time, but not 20 years” for he did not want his daughter to carry the baggage that she put him in jail.

At this time we are still gaining information on the investigation and the amount of jail time that Christopher Young could potentially face is unknown. The identities of the two girls have been classified due to privacy reasons.