Campus dorms food makes everyone sick

Kevin Lipkin- Talked about Bromley food and how it is okay, but continues to make him feel sick after he eats it.

Molly O'Donovan- Bromley food makes Molly feel "gross." She can not stand it and she feels sick after she eats every time. It is almost at the point of her wanting to move out of Bromley.

Maggie Myles- "I am so tired of the repetitive food options in Bromley and I literally get sick after every meal. I am to the point of having to eat salads and they even find a way to mess that up."

Next I will interview the head of Bromley's cafeteria and I will talk to more students and workers. I will also try to interview the head of Bromley Hall.

I think each person I interview will have a unique view. I expect the people who work for Bromley to offend the food, but I think they will know that there is room for improvement. The students pretty much all seem to have the same opinion on the food and everyone is getting sick from it. Hopefully this will help Bromley realize they need to change it up a little.
