

Story Update

I am not exactly sure what the headline or lede for my story will be yet. It will definitely sound something like, "Greek life and first year students."

So far I have interviewed two different freshmen at U of I, Emily Browne (AXO member) and Aakash Bhojwani (Former pledge of Indian Frat)

Both of these interviews were interesting, however the sit down with Aakash was much more eye-opening as he spoke about why he rushed and then eventually dropped as a pledge.

I'd like to still interview an international student who knows nothing about Greek life and ask what their first impressions of Greek life is.
